Grand.....A Son of Erin

DUSTIN FARNUM is at the Grand today in a photo screen production of "A Son of Erin." It is one of those beautiful pastoral plays with pretty spots in the Emerald Isle as a scenic background. The actor himself needs no introduction to a local audience, and while none of his appearances here in the past have been in character like this one today one needs only a little stretch of the imagination to get an idea of how admirably he must play the part.

Marie Doro comes to this house in a wonderful screen production of a Dickens' masterpiece, "Oliver Twist."

The new bill put on by the Little Bluebird Company at the Hippodrome today is a delightful musical jingle with just the right amount of comedy to make a well balanced bill. Jack Puquay has already established himself in the hearts of Hipp patrons by his excellent black face comedy in the opening bill.

Harold Giles will loom up a big feature in tonight's bill. The run of comedy in recent weeks has been depending on burnt cork efforts but tonight there will be a return to the Dutch and Irish. The chorus is splendidly costumed and their singing and dancing will add much to a very delightful entertainment.

"The Veiled Thunderbolt" at the Nelson today is the big feature of the program. George Larkin and Ollie Kirby introduce a number of hair raising stunts that are probably more thrilling yet seen in this wonderful "Grant, Police Reporter," series.

The Girl from Frisco feature is called "The Homestead Fund" and abound with many situations and scenes germane to life on the frontier. A rather pathetic drama is also presented in "The Power of Pin Money."

It is not generally known that Warner Oland, who does such remarkable acting in the International's photoplay serial supreme, "Patria," is really the father of the Little Theatre Movement in America. The movement which is now an assured success owes its success largely to Mr. Oland. A number of the series is showing at the Princess today.

Long ago he saw the need for a small intimate theatre—indeed, he selected "intimate" as the name for a theatre he proposed building. All his work in this direction was done at his own expense. He was content to slave in stock and in productions to earn the money necessary to stage dramas of real artistic merit, and after putting on a "high-brow" play he went back to the routine of popular productions until he had saved enough to make another venture in fine art.

A year before Richard Mansfield produced "Peter Gyn," Mr. Oland loaned Berkeley Lyceum and put on several scenes from that play. After an engagement in a Broadway success, he produced Ibsen's "Love Comedy." Then came a road engagement, and when he had secured the necessary funds, he came back to New York and put on Strindberg's "The Father," making a world's record of thirty-seven consecutive performances of the play.

LARGEST AMERICAN FLAG SWUNG
TO BREEZES IN SAN FRANCISCO!

Market street, San Francisco's famous thoroughfare, was crowded for blocks with thousands of wildly cheering patriots during a formal ceremony in which the largest American flag ever made was swung to the breeze. The enthusiastic demonstration of loyalty to Old Glory followed closely the President's war message.

Regular soldiers, sailors from the Naval Training Station at Goat Island.

U. S. Marines and National Guardsmen formed a hollow square. At the last note of the national anthem, played by a military band, the emblem was unfurled. The troops presented arms and the crowd cheered for five minutes.

The flag is 130 feet long and 75 feet wide. Each stripe is 5 1/2 feet wide and the diameter of each star is 30 inches. The flag weighs 300 pounds.

Flags and the national colors are now waving in all Pacific Coast cities.

PARADE BIG FEATURE
OF S.S. CONVENTION

Every Department of the Work to be Represented in Line at Parkersburg.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., April 11.—Preparations for the entertainment of the 1500 delegates who will invade this city to attend the Thirty-Fifth Annual convention of the West Virginia Sunday School association, May 8, 9, 10, are under full headway and nothing is being left undone by the general committee, and various sub-committees that will make this the greatest event in the history of the association.

One of the most important features that is being planned is the great parade that will take place at 6:45 o'clock on the evening of May 8, the first day of the convention which is expected to eclipse any pageant of this or any other character that has ever been attempted in the state.

It is planned that every department of Sunday school work shall be represented on an important scale from the cradle roll up to the home department. The primary, junior, elementary, teen age, men's Bible classes, other adult classes will represent various divisions of the parade. In addition to the 1500 visiting delegates who are expected to be here every Sunday school both in Parkersburg, and its various suburbs are to be represented.

Floors of an attractive character will add greatly to the attractiveness of the pageant, while it is expected to have several bands that will help to make the great parade something that will attract the keenest interest. It is the confident belief that the number who will participate including the visitors a dnmembers of local Sunday schools will be upward of three thousand people.

Fidella Vincent returned to Kingmont from New Mexico one day last week where she will reside with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tiberius Vincent.
